

ENJOY A SUPER SEXY FESTIVE SEASON

The festive season is upon us and at last we have more time to hang back and relax, enjoy a braai, play ball with the kids and take afternoon naps with the wife. And the warm summer evenings are just the thing for long romantic sex sessions.

But what do you do if you are one of the unlucky men whose sex life is cursed by premature ejaculation? Research has shown that up to 60% of all men experience the problem of involuntarily climax at some stage in their lives - often before their sex partner is even close to their own orgasm.

The result is that sex can become a stressful and nerve wracking experience. Willie (36) of Uitenhage confirms this, "I was so worried that I was going to cum too fast that I could not enjoy sex anymore, and the more I worried the faster it happened!"

Thankfully for Willie, he discovered the new and revolutionary product, PERFORMAXX. This wonder capsule - that comes with a set of sexual control-techniques - has boosted his sex life to new levels. "The results are simply dumbfounding. I can reach a climax quite a few times a night. The best of all is that, thanks to the great sex, our relationship is better than ever."

At only R120, there is NO BETTER WAY to spoil yourself - and your lady - with an extra sexy Christmas gift this year.
